WEDDINGS

Walker—Bond

One of the prettiest weddings of the season was solemnized in the United Church, Champion, at 2 o'clock on Monday afternoon, July 8th, when Ferna Perditta Bond, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bond became the bride of James Glen Walker of Carmangay. The pastor, Rev. S. Hunt, B. A., performed the ceremony. The church was well filled considering the number of people out of town, when the bridal procession entered, to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march played by Miss Leola Johnson. The bride was led to the altar by her father looking charming in a white georgette and satin gown, and carrying a lovely bouquet of Ophelia roses, she wore a bride's veil with orange blossoms. The little flower girl, June Ahlmore, looked sweet in peach organdie and carried pretty flowers. Miss Rheta Campbell was a most attractive bridesmaid, wearing a dress of rose georgette and picture hat. Donald Bond attended the bridegroom. The ushers were Andrew Anderson and Harold Stephenson. Mr. Geo. Campbell sang "Oh Promise Me" during the signing of the register. The church was a place of beauty with the floral decorations. Banked wild roses made a fine setting for the masses of pink and white peonies and roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents when fifty relatives and friends attended. The bride's going away suit was a blue and grey sport costume with hat and accessories to match, and she wore a handkerchief the gift of the bridegroom. The bridegroom's gift to the bridesmaid was a beaded mesh bag, to the best man a set of military brushes. The newly-weds left by motor for a honeymoon tour to Portland and other points. Mr. and Mrs. Walker will make their home in Carmangay. They are both well known here, and good wishes were received from hosts of friends.

Dillingham—Ulrich

A pretty wedding of special interest to a wide circle of friends was celebrated in Champion on Monday, July 15th when Estella May Ulrich, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ulrich of Champion, was united in marriage to John Dillingham, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. S. Dillingham, Macleod. The clergyman who performed the ceremony was the Rev. S. R. Hunt. The home was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and smilax, the color scheme being carried out in maize and mauve, the ceremony was being performed under a lovely arch. The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, who gave her away gowning in a powder blue georgette bouffant dress, trimmed with white and silver lace, with shoes to match, and carried a lovely bouquet of white carnations and roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Florence Ulrich, sister of the bride, was dressed in maize georgette, trimmed with lace and carrying a bouquet of pink carnations and roses. Neil Dillingham, brother of the groom, acted as best man. After the ceremony the wedding party, numbering about 30, set down to a delicious luncheon, at which toasts for the happiness of the young couple were proposed. The bride and groom left by motor

FIGHT

In ever loving memory of Mrs. Elmira Frances Ficht, beloved wife of Henry C. Ficht, who died June 11th at 5 a.m. in her home, 209-4th Ave. N. E., Calgary, aged 68 years.

She is mourned by her husband, three sons, Harvey D. of Seattle, Wash.; Glen H. of Lomond, Alta.; Jas. P. of Edmonton, Alta., and an only daughter, Mrs. Ula Tindall of Champion, Alta. These with five sons predeceased constitute her family. Six have gone to their reward while five await the call to a better life beyond. "Prepare to meet your God"

Figures Horses

Are Cheapest

J. H. Doyle sends The Chronicle the following letter which will undoubtedly prove of interest to those who are facing the problem of costs in tractor vs. horses:

Champion, July 10th, 1929.
Editor Champion Chronicle:
Dear Sir:—I plowed eighty acres on Sec. 15, Tp. 15, Range 23, with a 15-30 McCormick-Deering tractor and John Deere Wheatland plow. The work was completed in 27 hours and fifteen minutes. The ground was plowed an average of four and one-half inches in depth and 68½ gallons of gas were used costing 30c per gallon. The cost was 30½ cents per acre, or $24.30 for eighty acres. I can use the same plow with 12 head of horses, plow the same depth and do it for 20c per acre or $16.00 for the eighty acres. I ran the tractor myself.
Yours truly,
J. H. Doyle.

for the honeymoon to be spent at Calgary, Banff and Lake Louise. The bride's going away dress was of sand flat crepe, with shoes and stockings to match, and coat and hat to match.

The good wishes of a host of friends in Macleod go with the happy couple, as they have been very popular in the younger set in Macleod for the past two or three years. Both have been resident in Macleod for that time. Miss Ulrich having carried on the "Miliadi Beauty Parlor," and Mr. Dillingham is the publisher of the Macleod Times. The popularity of the young folks has been notably shown by the number of showers the bride received and the large number of hand-some presents which they have received from their many friends and relations. The present from the groom to the bride was a lovely wrist watch, to the bridesmaid a bracelet, to the best man a tie pin.

NOTES

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Alex Goetz.

During the signing of the register Mr. Campbell sang "I Love You Truly."

The tables were decorated with mauve and white campanulas and yellow columbines and yellow candles, and presided over by Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Herman Ulrich.

The Friday evening preceding the marriage, a most enjoyable shower in honor of the bride was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Ulrich. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received. About 40 friends motored out to the farm home and spent a very pleasant evening.

NOTES AND COMMENT.

While crops sown on stubble have given some wonderful returns these have not justified the rapidly increasing amount of land sown in this way. In computing the gains from this kind of sowing the losses have been entirely lost sight of. The fact that the failure of a stubble crop leaves the land unsuitable for anything at summerfall the following year in itself would prove that on the whole more money has been lost sowing stubble than has ever been gained. There is undoubtedly justification for some of this sowing, where the acreage to be summerfallowed is too large and other reasons, but to make it a large part of the crop could not fail to be fatal in the long run.

The Canadian Manufacturers' Association in their annual statement in regard to Canada's fiscal policy, published in a previous issue, while still insisting that a protective tariff policy is necessary to Canada's development are much milder than usual in the terms in which this suggestion is presented. The fact that a retaliatory tariff to offset that of the United States is condemned, goes to prove that practically all classes, protectionist and otherwise, are opposed to any move in this direction.

The soaring price of wheat is, unfortunately, an indication that this year's crop is more or less of a failure. It is seldom that conditions in this country changed so rapidly from what looked like a bumper crop to the assurance that the yield was likely to be less than half of that of a year ago. Locally it would appear we are much better off than is the case in almost any other section of the province, but even at that the change has been a remarkable one from wonderful prospects to medium anticipations in regard to yield. Recent showers have benefited portions of the crop area much more than others, the dividing line sometimes being a section of land.

Should Cater
To Coast Trade

The annual report of the Dominion Department of Agriculture has the following reference to hog raising in Alberta:

"Fewer hogs were raised in the Province in 1928 than in 1927, and according to market reports this was reflected in decreased marketings on Calgary and Edmonton stock yards. There was, however, a slight improvement in quality. The price paid in both years was highest in the month of August and as soon as heavy receipts came on the market price decreased very rapidly. The fluctuations in price have been very marked, and it would apparently be good policy for hog raisers to have some of their hogs fattened at a later date and bring some of these pigs on the market when the price is high, and fewer when the price is low, to stabilize prices throughout the year.

The coast market has been active and has taken a large number of our hogs, and everything should be done to develop this market and raise the kind of hogs that the coast trade demands. On an investigation by a committee composed of representatives of the Dominion and Provincial Governments and the U. F. A., it was found that the coast market is calling for a longer and leaner type of hog, as most of the plants have an excess of fat which they have to dispose of at a rather low price. They, however, at the present time demand a little more finish than is called for by the export trade in the select bacon hog, and if some way could be devised that the select bacon hog could be retained for the packing plant and shipped as export bacon, and if there were a second quality of bacon hog which carried a little more finish, and which would perhaps be best suited for the coast trade, the farmers would realize a better price for both these grades of hogs.

Pastor and Family
On Vacation

Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Hunt left on Wednesday, July 17th for Tuxford, Sask. for a three weeks vacation, at the home of his sister, Mrs. J. W. Thomas. It is expected that they will spend some time at Lunenburg Beach on Long Lake. Mr. Hunt will supply the pulpit of the United Church at Tuxford for two Sundays. He wishes to express his appreciation for the faithfulness of the Sunday School staff and scholars up to the present time and it is assured that the Sunday School work will be well carried on during his absence. The family will return during the first week of August.

Lomond has a merchant who has never been able to make a motor trip to Calgary without bucking mud. We have a grain buyer who has invariably been greeted by excessive moisture every time he tried to get to Blackfalds. It might be a real idea to start the pair out together at the present time. Some kind of a record would be bound to be broken.

Socrates started to learn music after he was 80 years old; Cato started to on Greek at 81; Plutarch, at 70, started in on Latin; Chaucer began his "Canterbury Tales" at 55; and Ben Johnson began the study of Dutch at 82. Maybe there's some hope for us middle-aged guys after all.

As this goes to press Champion is entering on its 20th year of existence. The best part of it is that it starts its 20th year under much better circumstances than it did its 1st, although the weather is about the same.

Tree Planting Car Well Patronized

The tree planting car, which was here on Monday, drew a considerable attendance, particularly in the evening. The day was an unusually warm one and did not tend to induce people to move around freely. The equipment carried and the information made available were highly appreciated by those who were on hand for the occasion. It seems a matter to be regretted that such an opportunity should be missed by the large number away on their holidays.
